What contribution do you envision ILASFAA making to the profession?

I envision ILSASFAA being a resource hub for new Illinois student finance professionals. For me, the support from school services has been a catalyst for streamlining efficiencies with managing the MAP grant, engaging institutions, and addressing legislative issues as they arose. I see opportunity in expanding communications and training events for members and financial aid administrators as we prepare for upcoming changes with federal student aid.

How would you support financial aid professionals as we move into the future for ILASFAA?

The federal student aid landscape is changing with the goal of removing complexities from the financial aid process for students/families. Oftentimes there is advocacy work that organizations like ILSASFAA can contribute to in times of change. I most look forward to embracing the change that comes and preparing trainings/communication plans to assist finance professionals in navigating and championing the upcoming changes. If finance administrators are confident in the change to come they can empower students and families with adequate resources to make life changing decisions.

You are the Future of ILASFAA!

THANK YOU FOR YOUR PARTICIPATION IN OUR ILASFAA ELECTIONS!
