The screenshot shows a chat window with an orange header bar containing window control icons. The chat is titled "Aimee".

Student: What does EFC stand for?

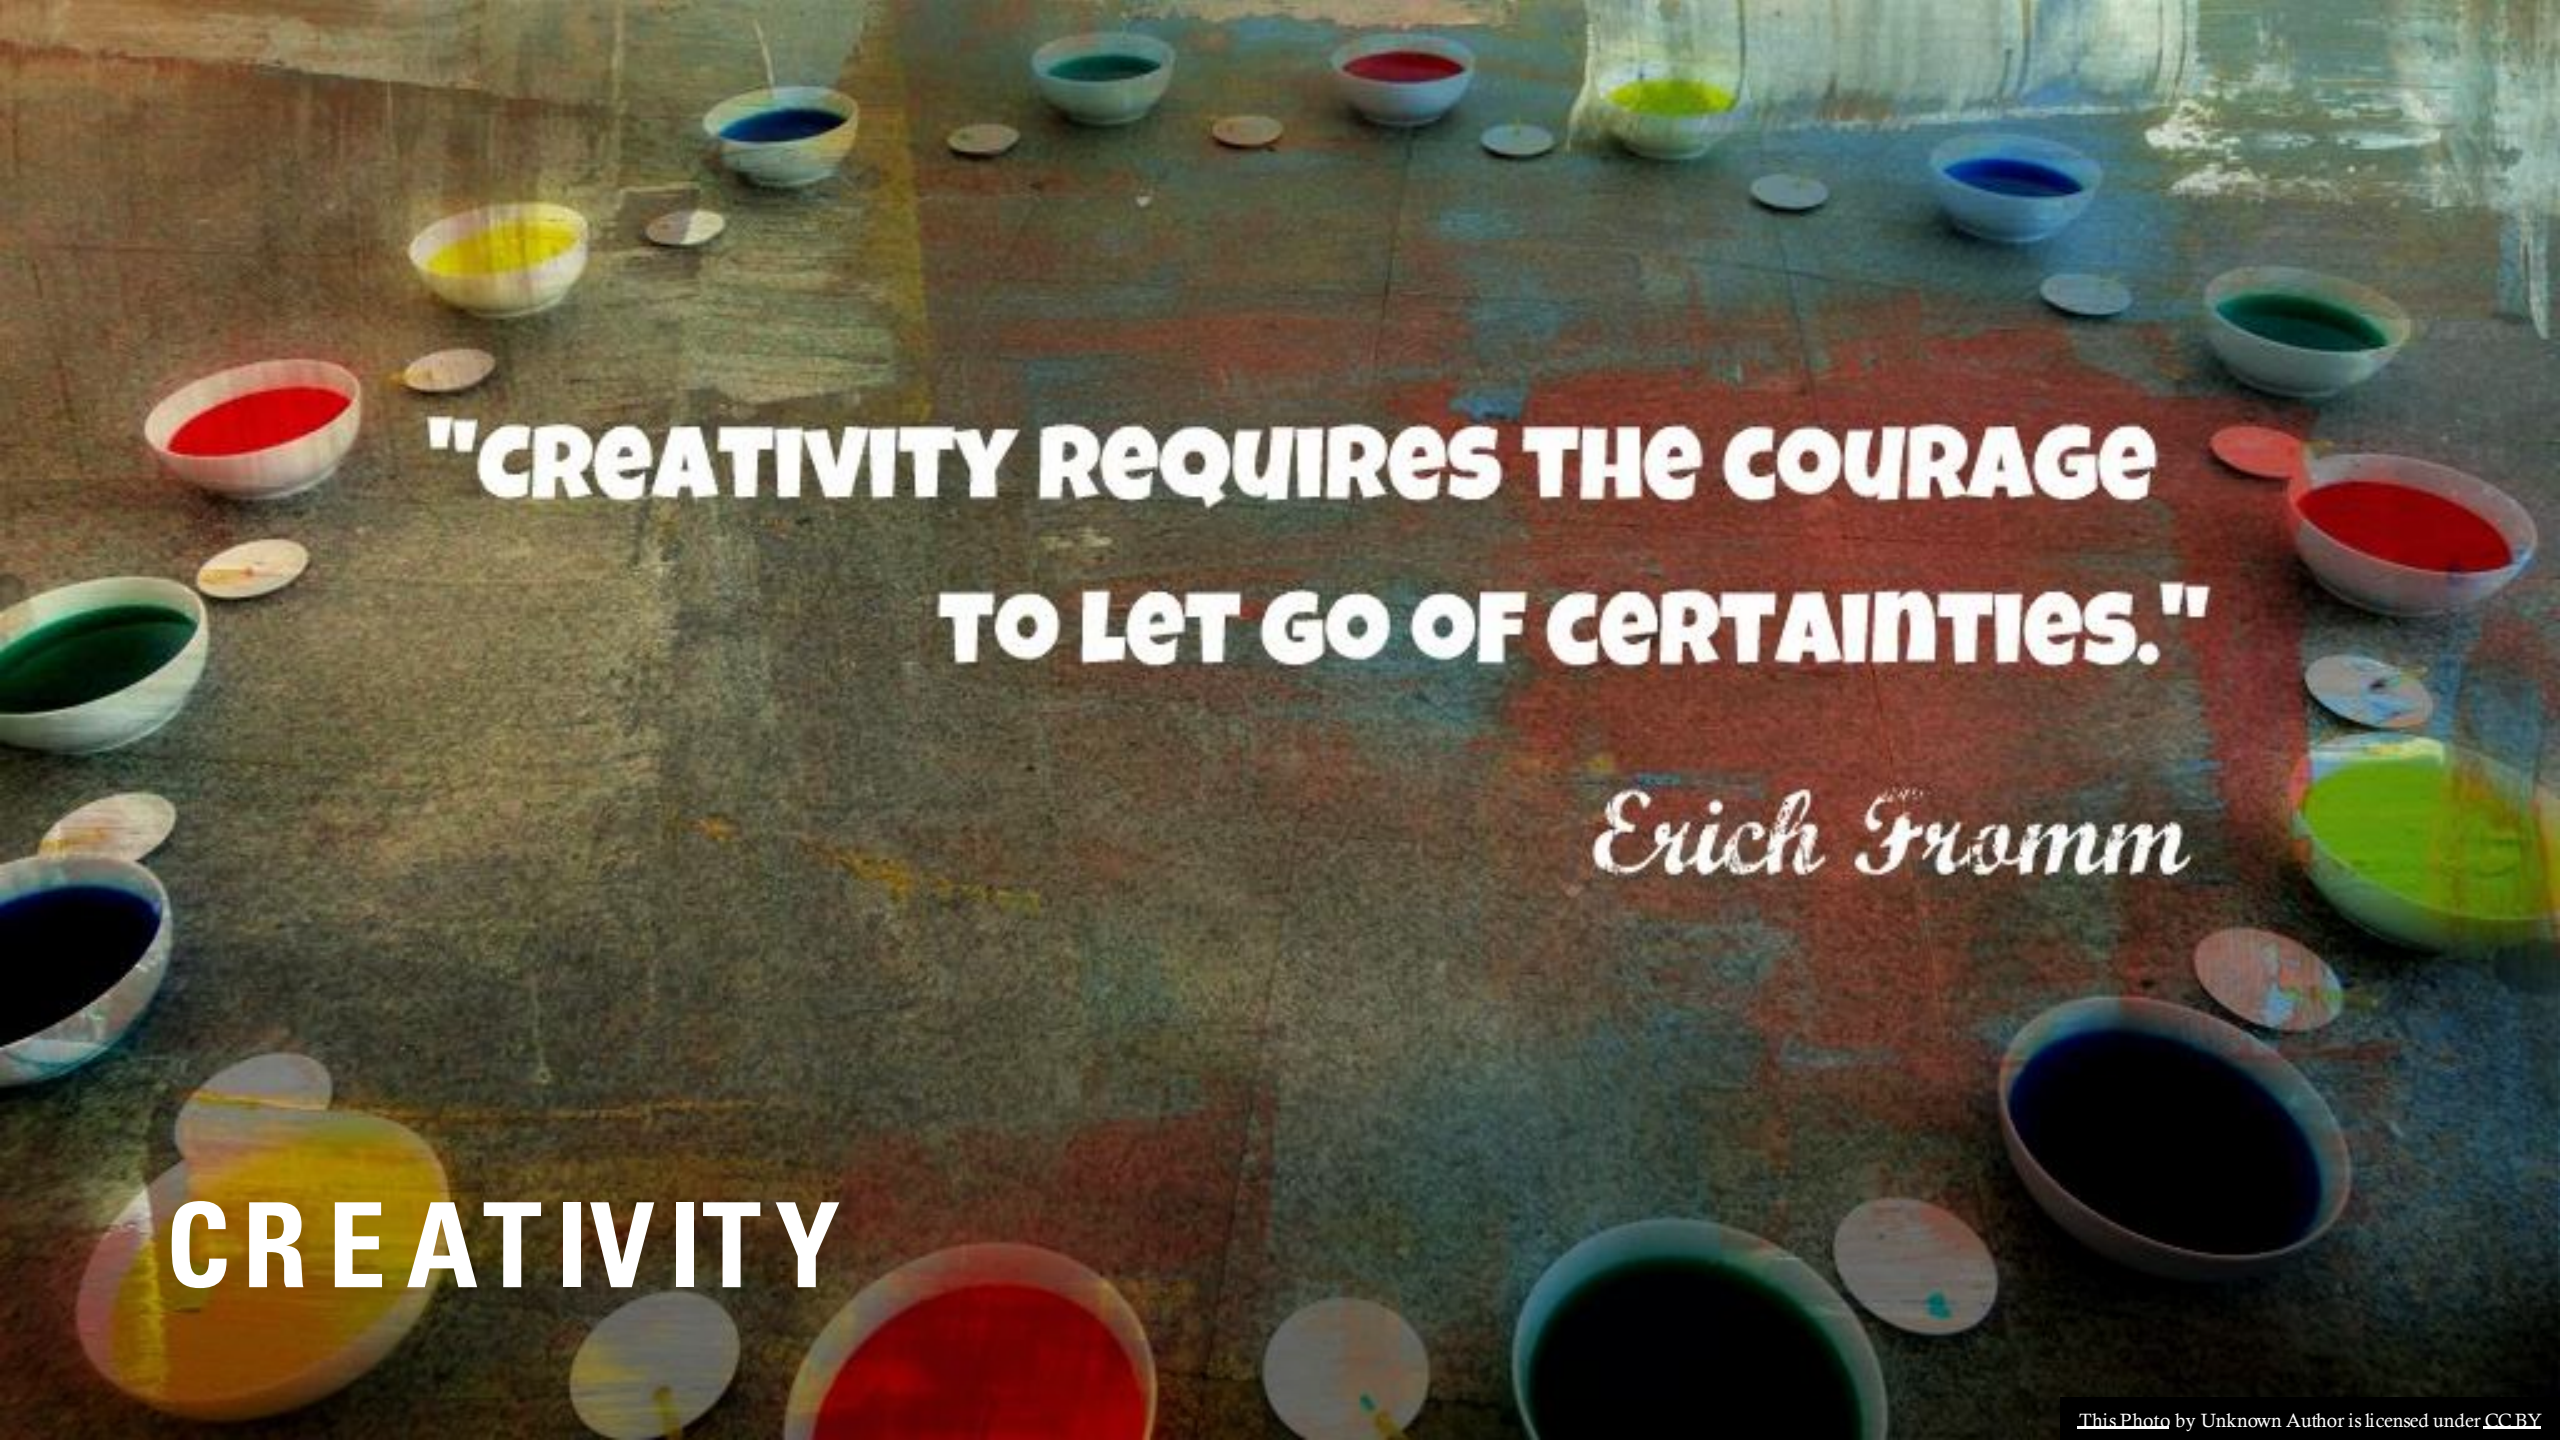

Aimee: The EFC is your Expected Family Contribution. This is a number the U.S. Department of Education estimates you and your family could contribute to your education. Your EFC is more of a placeholder to determine financial aid eligibility than a true estimate of how much you can pay.

I found a great video on this subject if you'd like to watch it.

What does EFC stand for?

The video player shows the title "What does EFC stand for?" and a timestamp of 0:00.

At the bottom, there is a text input field with the placeholder "Type a message in any language...", a "Language" dropdown menu, and icons for lock, save, refresh, and back.
